steady, but prices have not undergone any ma terial change. Wheat is less active; sales of good red to-day at $310. Corn, which declined at the opening of the week, has rallied and closes firm, with sales of upwards of 3000 bushels at 107 for white and mixed, and 108 for yel low. Rye and Oats are quiet, but prices uncharged. Butter is inactive, with an overstocked market of common. Corn Meal in good supply and request at 120 for city mills, and 110a115 for country ground.

DRY GOODS TRADE .- The New York Independent says: The dry goods trade must again he reported as flat, and prices declining. Jobbers, importers and commission houses alike complain. Such dullness in the middle of May has not been known in many years. Merchants from the interior will not buy goods, under existing circumstances, except in very small lots to supply absolute wants. No amount of urging avails, and cheap goods are no temptation whatever. Cotton is lower; gold is falling.— Manufacturers are stopping their mills; money in the country is scarce; breadstuffs are dear; rents and other expenses enormous; taxes are high, and things generally look blue.

BALTIMORE CATTLE MARKET, May 16.—Beef Cattle.—The continued scarcity of Cattle has caused a further advance this week. Prices to day ranged as follows: Old Cows and Scalawags at $6; fair Cows and thin Steers $8a8 75; fair Steers $9 25a9 50; good $9 75a10. and extra Cattle $10 25 per 100 lbs—but few at the latter figures. These prices show an advance of about Sheep-Supply better this week, and prices show a considerable decline. Sales of clipped Sheep at 61a71c, with a few extra at 71c per l gross. Lambs brought $4a5 per head. Hogs—Supply fully equal to the demand; sales at $10a10 75 per 100 lbs net—no change.

BALTIMORE MARKET, May 16 .- The market is without any change of note. Flour and Wheat are steady, but inactive. Corn is slightly better, but transactions are limited.

LOCAL NEWS.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 17.

MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—Several of our male schools had their usual May Excursions into the country, yesterday; and, among others, that under the charge of Capt. Wm. E. Baker. After spending most of the day at a beautiful place just beyond the junction of the A., L. & H. and W., A. & G. Railroads, Captain Baker proceeded, at the request of some of the boys, to the hill just beyond Four Mile Run, in the southern side of which there thing to those unacquainted with minning pro- also. cesses, and which is usually termed by the boys, "The Wild Man's Cave." Whilst he was engaged in exploring this, with some of the smaller boys, some larger ones strayed down to the berm bank of the Alexandria Canal and went in to bathe; and one, James Arthur Carlin, eldest son of Mr. William H. Carlin, conductor on the A., L. & H. R. R. was drowned. Whether he was chilled by the coldness of the water, and thus deprived of power to help himself, or whether he struck the stones at the bottom of the old stop gate and was stunned, is, we believe, a matter of doubt, but the body, notwithstanding the most diligent efforts for its recovery, was not found until 11 o'clock this morning. Young Carlin was a very bright and interesting boy, about 14 years of age, and deep sympathy is telt with his parents in their loss. No blame can be attached to Captain Baker in the matter, as the boys had been expressly forbidden by him to go into the water at all. ----

LECTURE -Mr. John Tyler, jr., son of the late President John Tyler, will deliver a lecture in this place, as will be seen from an advertisement in another column, on Monday night, the 20th instant, at Liberty Hall, oa "the two Civilizations, Jamestown and Plymouth Rock.' The newspapers in Washington and Baltimore have spoken highly of this lecture, which, we are informed, is in no sense a political speech, but embraces a philosophical disquisition, of an exceedingly interesting nature, on the character and mental qualities of the original settlers of Jamestown and Plymouth Rock, tracing out, in a remarkably lucid, profound and eloquent manner, the historical antecedents of to-day's Gazette, a meeting of the newly and characteristics of the European races from organized Hook and Ladder Company will be which those settlers sprang. We understand held to-night. that this lecture, thus interesting because of the subject it treats, and the manner of the treatment, is, nevertheless, but an episode introduced in the more general, important and consequential theme, to which he has devoted his pen during the past winter, in relation to "Commerce as the imperial sovereign of American Destiny;" and should our citizens give encouragement to the present effort, the learned and eloquent gentleman may be induced to favor us with his opening discourse on "Commerce as the parent and Nemesis of nations," which he delivered in Baltimore with distinguished success. We, therefore, bespeak for him a full attendance, and advise that our youth hear him, to whom, it will be seen, he extends a special invitation.

FISHING.—The seines at several of the fishing shores, on the Potomac, have been "cut out," and operations ended for the season .-At others, hauling is still continued-but all will stop shortly. But a few days ago, one of the largest hauls this spring was made at Fowkes' below Aquia Creek, and old fishermen say there is still a large run of fish in the river -shad and herring having been kept back, by the freshets and weather, last month. To-day, the hands at two of the shores came up to town, singing, as in old times, the songs, so often formerly heard, upon the close of the fisheries. The operations at all the landings this year have been quite successful-the late run of fish baving made up the deficiency which existed ten days ago.

DISAPPOINTED. - Several persons who expected to go down the river this morning on what, heretofore, has been the regular trip of the Wawaset, waited in vain on the wharf of Messrs. Hooe & Wedderburn, for the arrival of that steamer. The Wawaset has been withdrawn from the line, and her place is to be supplied by the Hi. Livingston, which com- of Jersey City, and a lot of stationary, inkmences running on the new route to Norfolk stands, &c. to-morrow morning.

MAY FESTIVAL .- The May Festival of the Eintracht Society of this city, held yesterday and last night, at the Potomac Gardens, was a grand affair and was heartily enjoyed by all who were present. The grounds were tastefully ane beautifully illuminated, the music excellent, the re-freshments, such as Messrs. Herbner and Brengle always prepare, and the ladiesas charming as Alexandria ladies always are.

FIREMEN'S CONVENTION. -The committee appointed at the last meeting of the delegates to the Firemen's Convention were to have met last night in the hall of the Sun Fire near 41 street, Washington. Company, to draw up resolutions for the government of the proposed new fire organization, but no quorum appearing, those present adjourned, to meet again next Monday night, at the same hour and place.

874 07. THE STEAMER JOHN GIBSON.—The steamer John Gibson which sailed from this port this morning with a full freight and passenger list, SUN UMBRELLASII for New York, carried a magnificent horse, formerly belonging to Col. Marmaduke Johnson, of the late Confederate Army, but now the property of Mr. E. B. Townsend, of that

> Nor Found.-The draggers who have been searching for the body of Julia Forzest, who is supposed to have drowned herself on Tuesday night last, have been unsuccessful in their efforts, and it is thought, that if drowned, the fide has washed the corpse down the river.

On 'CHANGE. - There was a very full attendance of buyers and sellers at the Exchange this morning. Besides other articles disposed of there were sales of upwards of three thousand bushels of corn at prices above those obtained earlier in the week. The Exchange, so far, has proved of great advantage, and its beneficial results are felt more and more.

SCHOOL PICNICS .- These pleasant rural excursions of the girls and boys of the different schools continue. We mentioned yesterday that of the Alexandria Female Seminary. The students of St. John's Academy, R. L. Carne, is an excavation, made by some soldiers during jr., principal, and the schools of Mr. Powell, the late war, which is really a very curious Mr. Baker, and Mr. Henry, have had their > KILLED.-A telegraphic dispatch received here yesterday states that Francis Sheridan, of the United States burial corps, son of Mr. Michael Sheridan, of this city, was killed in Staunton yesterday. His body will be brought down this evening on the Orange and Alexandria Railroad. No particulars are known.

THROWING BALLS IN THE STREET. -The police report to day chronicles the arrest of a schoolboy, for indulgence in the sport of Base Ball in the streets of the city. The police have been ordered by the Mayor to arrest in future all boys who are caught pitching balls within the corporate limits.

THE GLIDING STAR. - The hull of the new steamer Gliding Star will be launched to morrow at the ship yard of Mr. Joseph Hunter, where it was built, and towed to Washington, to receive the necessary machinery.

COAL VESSELS .- The number of vessels that have lately arrived at Philadelphia, the scarcity of freight at that city, and the high rates paid for transporting coal, will, it is thought, materially increase the arrivals at this port next week.

STEAMER KEYPORT.—The steamer Keyport of the Aquia Creek Line, will start for Wil mington, to-morrow, for the purpose of being over hauled and repaired. The Georgianna will take her place on the route.

HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY. - As will be seen by an advertisement in another column

COURT HOUSE .- Some one broke into the Court House a few night ago, by tearing open one of the shutters. Nothing was stolen and no damage done to the interior of the building.

HEN HOUSE ROBBED. -The hennery of Mr. C. Augur, who resides on Washington street, near the corner of Duke, was robbed last night of all its occupants.

ERRATUM .- In the News of the Day, in yesterday's Gazette, it was stated that the room of the Young Men's Christian Association in Washington, had been broken open, It should have read, in Brooklyn, N. Y. &c.

POLICE REPORT-MAYOR'S OFFICE. -A schoolboy, arrested for throwing a ball in the streets, was discharged, upon the payment by his father of the fines and costs. MAGISTRATES' OFFICE. There were no cases of a criminal character at the Magistrates'

WASHINGTON ITEMS. - The property known as the Intelligencer Building, corner of Seventh and D streets, or the interest of Messrs. Spalding & Rapley therein, has been sold to Messrs. Galt & Bros. and Henry S. Davis, for the sum of $90,000. Of this amount $60,000 is to be paid cash. The purchase does not include the corner store, (25 feet,) which belongs to the Seaton estate.

The parade and inspection of the Metropolitan police force took place yesterday, according to programme. There were over 200 officers in line, including the mounted men on duty in the county.

Mr. Richard Barry, an old and esteemed citizen, and for many years secretary of the board of common council of Washington, died on Tuesday.
